Four teams from the University of Montana Century Club have been drafted for the two-week membership blitz which begins Wednesday morning.

The teams are Jim Andrews' Raiders, Hal Gilette's Lions, Don Huggins' Oilers and Chuck Johnson's Dolphins.

Gene Carlson, Executive Secretary of the Century Club, said the team captains drafted players from the Board of Directors, the Grizzly coaching staff and the Century Club membership. Each team then selected names from a prospect list, according to Carlson.

"We are calling it the 1974-75 Century Club Conference Blitz of Missoula," Carlson said. "The league champions will be fed a champagne and steak barbeque by the losing teams, who must serve themselves a beer and hamburger dinner."

Carlson said a halftime report on the membership drive will be given May 22, with the championship report to be made May 30.

Several members of the UM coaching staff will be in Hamilton Friday to meet with prospective Century Club members. Carlson said Bob Johnson and Glen Mitchell are making contact with prospective members in Hamilton.

In addition to Carlson, Jim Brandenburg, Ron Nord, Bill Betcher and John Smith will make the journey to Hamilton.
